Note

Roger Stonebanks was born in Harrow-on-the-Hill, London, England, on March 27, 1940. He immigrated to Canada in 1959, and arrived in British Columbia in 1962, settling in Victoria. Stonebanks worked as a journalist until his retirement in 2000. He wrote for The Canadian Press (1956-1964), the Victoria Daily Times (1964-1980), and the Victoria Times Colonist (1980-2000). He served as the Western Canada Vice-President of the Newspaper Guild (1973-1985), as President and as Vice-President for the Victoria Newspaper Guild (1966-1995), and as Co-Chairperson for the Victoria Joint Council of Newspaper Unions (1971-1995). In 2004, he published the book "Fighting for Dignity: The Ginger Goodwin Story." A portion of the research Stonebanks conducted for this book also appeared in other forms as newspaper articles for various publications.

Custodial history

Records were in the custody of Roger Stonebanks until their acquisition by Simon Fraser University Library Special Collections and Rare Books in 2015.

Scope and content

Collection consists of records created or accumulated by Roger Stonebanks over the course of, and following, his research for the book “Fighting for Dignity: The Ginger Goodwin Story,” published in 2004, as well as for numerous newspaper articles about Goodwin, mining, and labour history in British Columbia. Records include interview notes, correspondence, photographs and other graphic material, audio cassette tapes containing interview recordings and radio broadcasts, research records from various sources, and Stonebanks’ notes about sources consulted. Research records are primarily reproductions from sources such as museums and archives, and include records such as birth, death and marriage certificates, photographs, and newspaper articles. Some records date past 2004, after the publication of Stonebanks’ books, and thus were not used as research sources. The collection also contains various articles reviewing and publicizing Stonebanks’ book.

Collection has been arranged into the following four series: Correspondence (1985-2004); Subject files (1908-2011); General clippings and publicity (1990-2010); and Photographs (1909-2004).

Series MsC-158-0-2: Subject files

Date: 1908-2013 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of records created or accumulated by Roger Stonebanks relating to his research about Ginger Goodwin's life. Records were used in the creation of Stonebanks' book "Fighting for Dignity: The Ginger Goodwin Story" and files typically correspond to persons, topics, themes, or time periods in Stonebanks' book. Records include interview notes, correspondence, photographs and other graphic material, audio cassette tapes, reproduced research records from various sources, and Stonebanks' notes about sources consulted. Some research records date past 2004, after the publication of Stonebanks' books, and thus were not used as research sources.

Physical description: 0.54 m of textual records

23 photographs

5 audio cassette tapes

1 computer disk

Access points:

- Multi-media (documentary form)

Arrangement:

Records in this series were maintained in the creator's original order.

Sub-series titles are taken from the creator's own titles. Sub-series correspond roughly to sections of Stonebanks' book, although the correlation is not perfect. For example, the creator uses the heading "1910 land mine purchase sale by Dunsmuir," but his book does not have a section devoted to this topic. Rather, the topic is integrated with other information in chapter 2.

Subseries MsC-158-0-2-7: Epilogue notes and research records

Date: 1919-2013 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Sub-series consists of Stonebanks' notes and research records relating to the epilogue of his book. The epilogue speaks about topics related to Goodwin's legacy, including his gravesite, Miners' Memorial Day, and Ginger Goodwin Way. It also speaks about the lives and legacies of those connected to Goodwin, and provides information about living and working conditions in the town where Goodwin had lived. Records include reproduced research records for various sources, correspondence, and Stonebanks' notes.

Series MsC-158-0-3: General clippings and publicity

Date: 1990-2010 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of articles relating to Ginger Goodwin's life and legacy as well as articles reviewing and publicizing Stonebanks' book. Most of the information contained in these clippings is very general and thus would not have provided much research help to Stonebanks, and, indeed, many of the articles were accumulated after the publication of Stonebanks' book.
