

Principles of Microeconomics

Economics 103

Section: D100

Term: 2013 Fall

Instructor: D. Allen

Discussion Topics: This course is designed with two main goals in mind. The primary purpose of the course is to provide a sufficient understanding of the fundamental principles of economics. This includes propositions about individual behavior, output of firms, market structure, and the organization of economic activity. However, I also want to convince you that economics is an interesting field of study, and I intend to do this with a wide variety of examples. Throughout this course we will constantly apply economics to every aspect of your life. I hope to surprise you, perhaps offend you, and ultimately whet your intellectual appetite towards economics.

Grading: The Final letter grade will be based on the following weights:

Assignments 10%

Midterm Exam 30%

Final Exam 50%

Tutorial Participation 10%

Information regarding assignments will be discussed in the first class.
