CHANCELLOR'S WELCOME

On behalf of Simon Fraser University, I am honoured to welcome you to Spring Convocation 2014.

The seeds of this exciting day were sown almost five decades ago when 2,500 bright young minds crossed the threshold of this fledgling institution on September 9, 1965. Those first students, and the scholars who mentored them, embraced a commitment to discovery, diversity and dialogue that still distinguishes SFU.

Look around Convocation Mall and you will see the youthful, creative energy that launched SFU still flourishes. We have grown not just in size but also in spirit. Our three campuses now welcome more than 30,000 students each year, and our newest graduates will join an alumni family that numbers more than 130,000 and spans the globe.

Today is the moment to mark a job well done, a time to celebrate the effort and accomplishments of our students. But this is no farewell.

Tomorrow—or at least, one day soon—we will look forward to welcoming these graduates back. Because we know this ceremony is really just a well-appointed way station along the road to lifelong learning and engagement. Travel well.

Carole Taylor
Chancellor

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

The skirling of the pipes, the procession across the pond, the conferring of degrees: Convocation at Simon Fraser University is a glorious ritual and a most suitable recognition of an academic job well done.

I join with your family and friends—and the other generous souls who supported you throughout your university journey—in applauding this important accomplishment.

The purpose of an SFU education is to equip you with the knowledge, skills and experiences you will need to succeed in an ever-changing and challenging world.

As W.B. Yeats observed, "Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire." I see that fire burning brightly in each of your eyes today—a flame that will sustain you in the years to come.

Hearty congratulations to our graduates, and thank you all for being part of this happy occasion.

Andrew Petter
President and Vice-Chancellor

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION WELCOME

As President of SFU's Alumni Association, I wish to congratulate you on achieving your academic goal and welcome you to our dynamic and diverse community of more than 130,000 alumni in more than 130 countries.

Like any strong community we take pride in your accomplishments. At Convocation, a fellow graduate will award you an SFU alumni pin, a modest symbol of your lifetime membership in your Alumni Association.

As you journey through life, look to your Alumni Association to remain informed and involved in the future of our university and your fellow alumni. To stay updated on all your benefits, opportunities and unique alumni-only events join the Alumni Online Directory and register for alumni email forwarding. ## HISTORY

SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY
ENGAGING THE WORLD

The University is named after Simon Fraser, Loyalist, fur-trader and explorer, who in 1808 completed one of the greatest journeys in the annals of Canadian history by descending the mighty river which today bears his name.

In January 1963 a report recommended the creation of a new university in the Lower Mainland—two months later the establishment of Simon Fraser University received formal assent in the British Columbia Legislature, and Dr Gordon M. Shrum was appointed the first Chancellor.

From a variety of sites, the Chancellor recommended the top of 1200 foot high Burnaby Mountain, with its magnificent views of Burrard Inlet, the Coast Mountains, the Fraser River, and Vancouver harbour. The Vancouver firm of Erickson/Massey won the design competition, but the four runner-up architects each designed at least one building within the overall plan. Construction began in the spring of 1964 and eighteen months later, on September 9, 1965, Simon Fraser University opened to 2,500 charter students.

Since then the University has grown substantially, with the establishment of the Vancouver campus in 1980, and the establishment of Surrey campus in 2002.

SFU's Vancouver campus offers programs and services directed to mid-career intellectual and professional growth. With several striking downtown buildings, the campus currently serves over 70,000 people annually. In 2010 the School for the Contemporary Arts moved its Burnaby programs to the Vancouver campus, occupying a new facility on the redeveloped Woodward's site.

SFU's Surrey campus promotes student success with a learning environment based on innovative teaching approaches, small class sizes, and a vibrant research community. SFU's newest campus occupies a stunning facility designed by renowned architect Bing Thom, officially opened in September 2006.

GOVERNOR GENERAL'S GOLD MEDAL

Dr Faraz Hach, PhD, School of Computing Science Wednesday, June 11, 9:45 AM

Dr Faraz Hach came to SFU from Iran in 2004 for his master's degree in Computing Science and was promptly recruited to do his PhD here as well. He was the main architect of a world-renowned genetic sequence mapping tool that has put him at the forefront of the big data revolution currently taking place in the biomedical sciences. His important research has also led to a postdoctoral appointment between SFU and the Vancouver Prostate Centre where he is developing new computational tools to analyze prostate cancer sequencing data. He has also been collaborating with the School of Medicine at Indiana University, which is developing a pipeline to detect micro inversions in breast cancer data.

Dr Sarah Hunt, PhD, Geography Friday, June 13, 9:45 AM

Dr Sarah Hunt's SSHRC-funded PhD research on questions of law and violence in neo-colonial relations was an extension of her 15 years of community-based work with First Nations across BC. This work was inspired by her own Kwagwiltz cultural teachings, as she is of mixed First Nations and European background. She has been nominated for a Canada Research Chair position at a BC university.

GRADUATE DEAN'S MEDAL

Mr Ian Gilchrist, MBA Tuesday, June 10, 2:30 PM

Ian Gilchrist has led engineering teams for stationary generators and worked on fuel cells for automotive and transit bus use, including the pilot fuel cell bus fleet launched for the Whistler Olympics. His career as a professional engineer has taken him to Indonesia, Singapore, Germany, India, Taiwan, Denmark, Mexico and locations throughout the US. That's why his Americas MBA will be a huge career advantage for him. He was able to study management issues in the four largest economies of the Americas and then apply that knowledge to his final team project on market opportunities for back-up power products in Latin America. His MBA will also be directly applicable to his current job as a Manager of Test Engineering for Ballard Power Systems' clean-technology fuel cell systems.

Dr Omid Salehzadeh, PhD, Physics Wednesday, June 11, 9:45 AM

When Dr Omid Salehzadeh first came to SFU, he wanted to study semiconductor nanowires, a rapidly growing field due to the miniaturization of all technologies. Over the course of getting his master's and PhD degrees at SFU—in a record five years total—Dr Salehzadeh learned new techniques in semiconductor nanofabrication and helped expand his lab's research impact and even helped increase the lab's funding in this field. After a successful postdoctoral fellowship at SFU, where he wrote two major papers in a new research area, he is now engaged as a postdoctoral fellow at McGill University.

Dr Mehdi Seyfi, PhD, Engineering Science Wednesday, June 11, 9:45 AM

Dr Mehdi Seyfi came to Canada from Iran in 2009 and in only four years his doctoral research into communications theory, information theory and signal processing has already had a large impact on his field. He has published and submitted around 20 articles to prestigious journals and conferences, his papers have received about 100 citations—a major accomplishment for a doctoral student. He has also received several graduate awards and served as a reviewer for several IEEE publications. Since completing his degree, Dr Seyfi has also founded a startup company called Spenta Technologies, which will measure, analyze, process and help users to intelligently control the energy consumption of their homes and offices.

MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Ms Amy Wiebe, MSc, Mathematics

Wednesday, June 11, 9:45 AM

When she was just an undergraduate, one of Amy Wiebe's papers was published in the top journal in Combinatorics. She has since completed her master's in Mathematics with a perfect A+ average and received a number of major awards to support her graduate work. For her thesis, she took on a mathematical puzzle that has baffled mathematicians for over 65 years and came up with a simplified matrix that offers a possible approach to the construction of the solution. Her supervisor comments that Wiebe is about to submit two papers that are expected to overturn conventional wisdom—he says that it's an accomplishment that would be a career highlight for any professional researcher, let alone a master's student. Wiebe will be starting her PhD research at the University of Washington this fall.

Dr Bonnie Reilly Schmidt, PhD, History

Wednesday, June 11, 2:30 PM

Dr Bonnie Reilly Schmidt's experiences as one of the first women in the RCMP gave her a remarkably privileged position for writing her groundbreaking dissertation on the history of women in the RCMP. In the course of her PhD research, Dr Schmidt has been interviewed by CBC Radio, Maclean's, the Vancouver Sun and a number of other media sources. Her article, "Women on the Force," published in Canada's History, was nominated for a Gold Award in the 2012 Western Magazine Awards. By recording the recent past in her dissertation, Dr Schmidt's work may be used by those who wish to understand and learn from the past in order to build a better future for women in the RCMP.

Mr Adam J. E. Blanchard, MA, Psychology

Thursday, June 12, 2:30 PM

For his master's thesis, Adam Blanchard studied psychiatric patients and criminal offenders in Vancouver's Downtown Eastside. He discovered that there is an association between changes in dynamic risk factors and subsequent violence—his research findings will have important applications in clinical practice. He achieved a stellar 4.23 GPA for his Master's research, and has also received a number of significant awards throughout his academic career. His most recent award is for $105,000 from SSHRC to support his doctoral research in experimental psychology at SFU. For his PhD, he will be studying gang-involved offenders and the dynamic risk factors which influence their subsequent involvement in crime and violence.

Dr Becky Nash, PhD, Criminology

Thursday, June 12, 2:30 PM

Dr Becky Nash's exceptional doctoral dissertation was about the largest mortgage fraud in BC's history. She studied how these Ponzi schemes unfold and used social network analysis to discover that investors spent more money when their friends or family influenced their decisions. Her PhD papers have won multiple awards and she completed her doctoral degree in only three years. Dr Nash is now an assistant professor in the School of Criminology, Criminal Justice and Emergency Management at California State University, Long Beach. Her current research is concentrated in white-collar crime and counter-terrorism within the policing paradigm and her teaching focus is in quantitative research methods using a variety of methodological applications, including social network analysis, GIS crime mapping, and statistical analysis.

Mr Benjamin Cross, MRM, Planning

Friday, June 13, 9:45 AM

After working in the field of agrometeorology for several years, Ben Cross enrolled at SFU to augment his background in environmental analysis and physical science with a Master's in Resource and Environmental Management. During an eight-month co-op with BC Hydro, Cross worked on a novel research paper that found selecting better wind farm sites can improve wind farm efficiencies. An internship with the City of North Vancouver led to a full-time position and Cross is now working on the city's climate-change-adaptation and storm-water management projects.

Dr Rob McMahon, PhD, Communication

Friday, June 13, 9:45 AM

Dr Robert McMahon's groundbreaking doctoral research into the adoption of internet technologies by First Nations communities in Canada is a perfect example of how SFU's graduate students engage the world. Not only did he consult deeply with First Nations communities to ensure that their voices were heard, he also helped them to create websites where they can share their digital adoption strategies and successes with each other. His research has broad implications for indigenous communities around the world. He adds his thanks to the people living in the unique and vibrant communities that he works with, saying, "We have much to learn from the creativity and tenacity of the Indigenous Peoples of Canada." Dr McMahon is now working as a postdoctoral fellow with the First Nations Innovation Project at the University of New Brunswick.

Dr Noëlle Mathis, PhD, Education

Friday, June 13, 2:30 PM

Dr Noëlle Mathis completed not one but two doctoral degrees in only three years. She is the first student to write her PhD dissertation in French at SFU and she was also the first SFU student to complete a cotutelle—a joint double degree—with Université d'Avignon in France. Her dissertation on Plurilingual Identities and Textual Creation in French as a Second Language received the highest distinction possible in the French doctoral system, and today we are pleased to bestow one of the highest recognitions in the Canadian academic system. As a graduate student, Dr Mathis organized workshops for her fellow students in both France and Canada on academic writing in French, and she served as an agent of change, strengthening collaborations between countries and facilitating more meaningful international collaboration and engagement.

Dr Surita Parashar, PhD, Health Sciences

Friday, June 13, 2:30 PM

Dr Surita Parashar is an exceptional researcher and a tireless advocate for people living with HIV in Canada and around the world. She has authored and co-authored numerous peer-reviewed articles in the scientific literature and she has presented at national and international conferences. Her dissertation was approved "without revision," a condition that the external reviewer stated was the first in his career. She brings a sincere dedication to participatory, community-based approaches to HIV/AIDS research and empowering affected communities. She will certainly carry these core values and principles into all of her future endeavors, including her post-doctoral research project—a prospective cohort study investigating the impact of a new supportive housing complex for individuals and families affected by HIV. With her passion, dedication, and work ethic, Dr Parashar will surely make timely and important contributions to her field.

Dr Jacob Stone, PhD, Education Psychology

Friday, June 13, 2:30 PM

In his doctoral dissertation in Educational Psychology, Dr Jacob Stone dismantles the current theories of mind and self-regulation in children. He goes on to offer an alternative which solves vexing problems in the currently dominant theories and which has important implications for research in metacognition, human agency and moral psychology. During his doctoral studies, Dr Stone had six publications on wide-ranging topics from 19th century teachers' perspectives on the nature of children's minds to a critical analysis of the Reggio Emilia approach in early education to the significance of relativity theory in George Herbert Mead's work. Dr Stone says that he truly regrets his absence from convocation today and wishes he could be here.

She has already co-authored a peer-reviewed paper that was recently published online. Konrad's interest in research as well as her ability to question and explore complex ideas will serve her well as she pursues graduate studies this fall. Dr Isabelle Côté says "She is one of the best undergraduates I have ever had the privilege to work with." Konrad manages to find time to have fun with fellow students as the founder and president of SFU's Quidditch team. "It is very silly and it is very fun," says Konrad. Clearly this impressive student has a few things figured out—including how to balance work and play.

For Aleks Besan, a degree in International Studies allowed for multi-disciplinary flexibility. Passionate about social justice, she was actively involved on the board of the Simon Fraser Public Interest Research Group (SFPIRG) where she organized a panel called "Re-Thinking Development." She also co-chaired Fair Trade Vancouver's student branch, and worked with CJSF 90.1 FM, the volunteer-led SFU radio station. Besan plans to travel extensively and to continue contributing to social justice efforts.

Ms Krisandra Reid, BA, World Literature

Krisandra Reid, a founding member of Langley's Bard in the Valley theatre group, pursued a degree in world literature in order to hone her communication skills. Reid chaired the World Literature Student Union for two years and helped launch the literary magazine, Lyre. After completing four SFU co-op placements, Reid has accepted a full-time position as a communications officer with the Canada Border Services Agency.

Thursday, June 12, 2:30 PM

Ms Ashleigh Girodat, BA, Criminology

While working toward her degree in criminology, Ashleigh Girodat gained hands-on experience fighting online crime with SFU's International Cybercrime Research Centre. She works as part of a team analyzing data from a web crawler designed to track websites that exploit children. Girodat served on the Simon Fraser Student Society (SFSS) board of directors and acted as the SFSS Surrey chief officer and general officer, as well as the Surrey campus liaison and Out-on-Campus liaison. She also volunteered as an orientation team leader and gold-level student ambassador.

During an eight-month co-op with BC Hydro, Cross worked on a novel research paper that found selecting better wind farm sites can improve wind farm efficiencies. An internship with the City of North Vancouver led to a full-time position and Cross is now working on the city's climate-change-adaptation and storm-water management projects.

Friday, June 13, 2:30 PM

Ms Jennifer Vallée, BA, Health Sciences

Ms Melanie Ewan, BA, Health Sciences

An active volunteer for the past 10 years, Melanie Ewan has applied her education in health sciences toward community service. During her degree program she volunteered with the BC Poverty Reduction Action Committee and local Harvest Box and Zero Waste programs, along with tutoring SFU students. She plans to keep working in the field of social advocacy and environmental health and pursue a master's degree in either public health or health communications.

Armed with an MBA and a background in commercial banking, Vancouver Sun securities columnist Dr David Baines devoted 25 years and 3,887 columns to exposing illegal and unethical investment deals. His journalism not only saved money for investors, but also prompted regulators to take enforcement actions against perpetrators and in some cases, adopt new securities rules to curb repeat abuses. For his efforts, he was sued 20 times for alleged libel, and faced character assassination as well as physical threats and a contract on his life. In one case, he turned the tables, suing a group of promoters for libel and winning the largest libel award in B.C. history. He continued to expose wrongdoing until his retirement in 2013.

David Baines also received many accolades, most notably four National Newspaper Awards, more than any other reporter or columnist in Western Canada. In 2013 the Jack Webster Foundation presented him with its Bruce Hutchison Lifetime Achievement Award, B.C.'s most prestigious journalism award.

OUR TRADITION

SYMBOLS OF SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY

The original Coat of Arms was granted to the University in 1965 by the Lord Lyon, King of Arms, in Edinburgh. The 1965 arms was registered in Canada in 2007.

In 2007, the Canadian Heraldic Authority granted a modification of the Coat of Arms at the request of the University. The arms are based on the arms of Fraser of Lovat, from whom the University's namesake was descended via the Frasers of Culbokie. The blue quarters with white "fraises" i.e., strawberry flowers (a pun on the name Fraser) are the basic Fraser arms, while the white quarters with red crowns are those of Lovat. There are three books at the top of the shield, representing education. The heraldic description of the arms is;

"Quarterly; first and fourth Azure three fraises Argent; second and third Argent three antique crowns Gules, all within a bordure quarterly Argent and Gules, on a chief Gules three open books proper, bound and edged Or."

The University's motto Nous sommes prêts, meaning "We are ready", is a variation of the traditional motto of the Clan Fraser.

The mace was commissioned by University architects Erickson and Massey, and was presented to the University at the opening ceremonies on September 9, 1965. The mace is 61 inches long and weighs 23 pounds. Pieces of cut and polished jade, which were taken from the University's jade boulder in the Academic Quadrangle reflecting pool, were set in silver by its designer, Haida artist Bill Reid. The mace is crowned by a silver stag's head, derived from the coat-of-arms of Lord Lovat, head of the Clan Fraser. The Fraser tradition was to fasten sprigs of yew in their bonnets before entering battle, and the mace was carved from two hundred-year-old yew, gathered on Burnaby Mountain by a resident in the 1940s.

Lord Lovat presented the University with a claymore, or great sword, on September 9, 1965. The claymore was first used by a Fraser at the Battle of Culloden Moor in 1746. It was also used by a Fraser at the Battle of the Plains of Abraham in 1759. The claymore is approximately 36 inches long and weighs two pounds.

The University's flag is based on the coat of arms, and was first flown at the Convocation ceremonies in June 1981.

REGALIA

The regalia worn today by our graduates has a colourful history.

Regalia originated in the monasteries of the Middle Ages. At that time, university faculty were men of religion who wore the habit of their Order when teaching. Over time, their garments came to identify their university. In Europe, laymen did not commonly teach in universities until the 19th century. Only by 1858, for example, did British law no longer require university dons to be in holy orders. Nevertheless, professors continued to wear clerical garb, with modifications in cut and design.

Regalia colours often matched those of the university patron, or of the city in which the university was located; Simon Fraser regalia combines the red and royal blue of the Clan Fraser. (The University motto "nous sommes prêts" or "we are ready," parallels the Clan's "je suis prêt.")

The degree hood was originally part of the monk's habit—a carryall for food or other small items. Eventually, the hood became separate from the gown, variegated in colour, and emblematic of scholars and degrees from particular universities. Hoods in Canada and Europe are unique in design and colour to each degree and each university.

The history of the mortarboard worn by our Bachelors and Masters begins with high church dignitaries in the 16th century. These officials wore hats consisting of little more than a cap with a raised, squared crown. By the 18th century, the crown had evolved into a cloth-covered board, and the wearers into the deans and rectors of universities. The 19th century saw the top knob replaced by a tassel and the cap become required student attire. Reminded of the square board masons used to hold mortar, students dubbed the headgear a "mortarboard"—college slang of the day.

Doctoral hats are patterned after the Florentine hats in the time of the Medici. Students purchased hats of the appropriate university colours when continuing with advanced studies after completing the Bachelor degree.
